

Fly on the Wall

Fly on the wall observation allows the researcher to unobtrusively gather information by looking and listening without direct participation or interference with the people or behaviors being observed.

Capturing Natural Behaviour