

Ergonomic Analysis

Ergonomic Analysis provides an assessment of tools, equipment's, devices, or environments to optimize the fit, safety, and comfort for the users. Five interrelated criteria commonly used in this analysis are size, strength, reach, clearance, and posture (micro to macro).

